WEST PALM BEACH, FL—The Law Offices of Lesser, Lesser, Landy & Smith, PLLC ranked as the highest fundraising team when it stepped off with more than 5,000 participants—including individuals with autism, their families and friends—in the recent Palm Beach Walk Now for Autism Speaks that raised $287,000. The monies will fund critical scientific research, family services and advocacy efforts and to increase awareness about the nation's fastest-growing developmental disorder, now diagnosed in more than 1 in every 110 American children.

Among those taking the lead from Centennial Square in downtown West Palm Beach was Joe Landy, partner of Lesser, Lesser, Landy & Smith, PLLC, who served as the 2010 Walk's Corporate Chair, supported by the large and strong team showing of LLL&S partners, staff, family and friends. According to Landy and Walk leadership, all monies raised by the event will be used to support the work of Autism Speaks, the nation's largest autism science and advocacy organization. "It is truly a privilege to help support such an important cause – helping those who cannot help themselves," said Landy.

Established in 2000, the Walk Now for Autism Speaks events are the signature fundraising events for Autism Speaks and have attracted hundreds of thousands of walkers worldwide who have raised tens of millions of dollars for autism research. Last year's Palm Beach walk raised over $275,000 and more than $24 million was raised nationally at walks at more than 80 locations across the United States and Canada.

"We are so grateful to everyone who worked tirelessly to make this year's walk an unprecedented success, from the walkers to their sponsors, our incredible walk staff and many dedicated volunteers," said Denise Negron local co-chair of the Palm Beach Walk Now for Autism Speaks. "Working together, we are moving ever closer to finding the cause, improved treatment options and, ultimately, a cure for autism spectrum disorders."
