

Lesser, Lesser, Landy & Smith opens new office in Boca Raton

BOCA RATON - A sense of community commitment resonated throughout Lesser, Lesser, Landy & Smith during the firm's recent grand opening of its new 12,188-square-foot office building located at Corporate Plaza in Boca Raton. From the official ribbon-cutting (actually, there were two) that included representatives from the various non-profit, business and industry organizations LLL&S supports to the performance by a quartet ensemble of the Boca Raton Symphonia for which the firm is the newest Circle of Excellence Sponsor, it was clear that the law firm values community and the community values its relationship with the firm. Joining LLL&S partners Gary Lesser, Joseph Landy and Mickey Smith and their associates and staff were city and county officials, including Boca Raton Mayor Susan Wheelchel, Boca Raton City Council Member Mike Mullaugh, Palm Beach County Commissioner Steven Abrams; business leaders including Economic Development Council of Palm Beach County President Mike Jones, Greater Boca Raton Chamber President Troy McLellan and Palm Beach Medical Society Board of Directors President Lawrence Gorfine; legal and medical industry colleagues, and community leaders representing the Adolph & Rose Levis Jewish Community Center, Boca Raton Symphonia and Stand Among Friends. "We are pleased to expand our presence and reach in Boca Raton with our solid investments in both real estate and community commitment," said Gary Lesser, Managing Partner of LLL&S, the third oldest law firm in Palm Beach County that is headquartered in West Palm Beach, with offices in Stuart and Boca Raton. "While we have long had an office in Boca Raton, we look forward to growing and branching out even more from our new building at Corporate Plaza that now proudly bears our firm's name." LLL&S Associate Merry Haber directs and Managing Partner Gary Lesser oversees the Boca Raton office located at 4730 NW Boca Raton Boulevard.
